Incarnation and Paradoxes

Incarnation is an important idea in Christianity. It is all about how God became human in the form of Jesus and suffered as a human can do. Christians believe that God is an all-powerful creator and a pain bearer and that through his incarnation as Jesus, he was not a 'big giant in the sky', but a regular human with qualities found in all of us. God being an all-powerful creator and a vulnerable human is a paradox.

One of the ideas behind the 'true meaning of Christmas' is helping others. As a vulnerable baby, Jesus was forced to flee to Egypt to escape King Herod. This made him a refugee. At Christmas, people often do charitable acts to help the vulnerable, including refugees.

The 'True Meaning of Christmas'

Christians celebrate Christmas each year. They believe that the 'True Meaning of Christmas' involves showing gratitude to God for what he did and remembering the birth of Jesus Christ, by worshipping him, giving gifts and thinking of the poor and less fortunate.

Christmas cards can be secular or Christian. Christian cards show the true meaning of Christmas by displaying important images from the Christmas story to remind Christians about why they celebrate Christmas.

Christmas carols often celebrate different parts of the birth story of Jesus. However, some are more focused on traditions associated with Christmas and are sung as general celebrations of the Christmas festival.
